Based in London SE1, the UCO Clinic provides osteopathic treatment at a fraction of the cost of private practice.

We may be able to help with:

- general aches and pains, including arthritic, lower back and joint pain
- hip, knee, ankle and foot problems
- shoulder, elbow, hand and wrist problems
- sciatica
- muscle spasms and muscular tensions
- sports injuries
- headaches and migranes arising from the neck.

COVID information

Patient safety is very important to us. Appointments are delivered by osteopaths wearing full PPE and screening and cleaning protocols are in place. Please ask for more details.

Please note

As a teaching clinic appointments are typically delivered by senior students of the University College of Osteopathy under the supervision of qualified professionals.

“Excellent place,
lovely people and always feel 100% better.
Highly recommend”
